

SEIZED BY JAPANESE

BRITISH STEAMER CARRYING CART-
BRIDGES CAPTURED NEAR YAKU.Success of Peace Negotiations at Shimonoseki Perilized by the Demands of the War Party.

LONDON, April 10.—The Times this morning publishes a dispatch from its correspondent at Shanghai, saying that a Japanese man-of-war has seized the British steamer Yik-Sang, outside Yaku, having on board 25,000 cartridges, shipped at Shanghai by a respectable German firm as "bamboo and steel." The owners of the Yik-Sang, it is said, accepted the shipment in good faith. A dispatch to the Times from Kobe says that it is the correspondent's belief that the responsible statesmen of Japan are desirous of the success of the peace negotiations. But, he adds, their efforts are thwarted by the war party. The Japanese press, he also says, is virtually unanimous in deprecating the conclusion of peace at present, and he adds that it would be incorrect to infer that the armistice for northern China indicates a disposition towards peace. In conclusion the correspondent says that some of the influential papers demand besides the occupation of Peking, the subjugation of southern China.

WHAT JAPANESE PAPERS SAY.

Some Want the Mikado's Flag Hoisted in Peking—A Chinese Sage's Scheme.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Japanese mail advices up to March 15 received here show that in the native press the peace mission of Li Hung Chang occupies the leading place. As they attach much importance to the present embassy, they state their ideas of the terms of peace more definitely than heretofore, yet advance nothing new. While some journals are moderate in their demands others declare in unequivocal terms that peace is an impossibility until the flag of the rising sun floats over Peking. The Mainichi, in a rather philanthropic manner, advocates the annexation of a part of continental China, not merely for two usually advanced reasons, namely: To secure the independence of Korea and the maintenance of peace in the East, but for two others—that it would be contrary to the principles of humanity to suffer the Chinese in the newly occupied districts to fall again under the barbarous rule of China and that it would be regrettable in the interests of the Chinese in general, if after the war, they did not have enlightened Japanese near by to instruct them in the arts and sciences of civilization.

The effects on Japanese trade of the signing of a treaty of peace are already being discussed. That peace would give an immense impetus, it is asserted, there can be no question. Although it has been found that Japan's trade has not only suffered the check that was predicted on account of the war, but its total volume in money value in 1894 was very nearly 20 per cent. over that of the preceding year. In the case of some articles the war has done some injury to the foreign trade, but on most it has exerted very little influence. The greatest increase in the export trade of 1894 was in the case of raw silk, of which the value of the quantity sent abroad exceeded that for 1893 by as much as 11,000,000 yen.

An excellent scheme for the annihilation of the Japanese, submitted by a sage of high repute, is reproduced in the Chinese newspaper. The scheme was originated in answer to the proclamation of the Governor of Nanking, who ordered all those under his jurisdiction to devise some scheme for the destruction of all the Japanese. Every soldier should be armed with a sword, a long bamboo pole and a bucket of water. The pole and the bucket should be held with the left hand while the sword was thrust upon the foe, the buckets should be hurled at the opposing ranks to deprive them of their powder and render their guns useless. The bamboo poles should then be thrust between the legs of the enemy, and a sharp twist which would cause the Japanese to topple over in confusion, matter to finish off the dawning and prostrate foes with swords. The Governor, it is reported, took kindly to the suggestions made and, as the story goes, drove the pseudo sage from his presence in a fit of rage.

Evidently the stoutest resistance which the Japanese expeditionary army has met with on Peking will meet, says one of the Japanese papers, will not be offered by Li Hung Chang's soldiers, but by the Manchurian troops, but by the Mohammedan soldiers of China. This is the opinion of the conduct of General Tiao at the battle of Tientsin. He acquitted himself as a true general, while the Chinese soldiers of the other Chinese generals disgraced themselves by their pusillanimity. General Tiao's conduct at Tientsin, says the paper, was a model of military conduct. The other Chinese generals, says the paper, were a disgrace to the Chinese name. The death of her husband and the death of her mother, says the paper, were the only things that the Chinese soldiers cared for.

Bibles in China and Japan.
STAMFORD, Conn., April 9.—Before the New York East Conference Dr. Hunt reported that 100,000 Bibles had been distributed in China during the past four months. A copy of the New Testament was presented to the Chinese Emperor, and at his own request, a copy of the Old Testament to the Emperor. In Japan 70,000 Bibles had been distributed. The Chinese Emperor had appointed Chinese ministers to chaplains in the army.

IS THIS A CASE OF LOVE?

Miss May Sharp, a Sunday School
Teacher, Weds a Chinese.

KANSAS CITY, April 9.—Miss May Sharp, a teacher in the First Cumberland Presbyterian Church Sunday school, which is attended by several Chinese, was today married to Charlie Ying, one of the Chinese pupils of the Sunday school. Justice Betts had the marriage ceremony. The bride and groom were both well known and the affair has caused somewhat of a sensation among their friends.

Directors Who Borrowed Money.

CINCINNATI, O., April 9.—The appraisers of the defunct Commercial Bank have discovered that John D. Specker is a borrower to the extent of $20,000 from the bank. He is one of the directors. President Charles B. Foote, on the witness stand, a few days ago, testified that he himself was a borrower of $30,000. Specker is a brother-in-law to Clements Helmbush. The bank holds paper against Helmbush to the amount of $30,000, according to the testimony of President Foote. It is said the appraisers expect to realize $20,000 from this paper, and a few days ago it was said that even there seems to be no question about the bank paying all its liabilities.

A Her Causes a Murder.

OWENSBORO, Ky., April 9.—Will Payne was murdered today by his brother, Loch Payne, on the farm of the latter near Knottsville. The men quarreled over a hen and which will found on brother's farm, and which he had a fence around. Loch Payne, a soldier's brother, had a fence around his brother's farm, and he struck Will a blow on the head, from the effects of which he died to-night.

War Belles Found in a Tree.

ATHENS, Ga., April 9.—While telling an old tree near a fence from which a large sword with leather and brass scabbard, a soldier's tunic and a pocket watch with Confederate money, and a few other war relics. It is believed the articles were placed in the hollow tree during the war. The sword is rusty in places, but has been well preserved.

Obituary.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 9.—Pay Director James Fulton, in charge of the pay office at the Naval Academy, died here this morning at an early hour. He had been in bad health for a year or more and confined to his bed for a month. His death was caused by a collection of fat about the heart. At one time he was paymaster-general of the navy. A widow survives him.

To Prohibit Child Insurance.

BOSTON, April 9.—The legislative committee on insurance has reported to the House favorably on the bill to prohibit any life insurance company in Massachusetts placing a policy on the life of any child under ten years of age. Three members dissented. The bill, if it passes, will affect the business to the amount of $10,000,000 annually.

Rich Red Blood

In the body of an adult person there are about 15 pounds of blood.
The blood has as its most important elements, small round corpuscles, red and white, in proportion of about 300 red to 1 white one.

If the number of red corpuscles becomes diminished and the white ones increased the blood is impure, thin, lacking in the nutrition necessary to sustain the health and nerve strength of the body.

Then, That Tired Feeling, Nervousness, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, or others of the long train of ills, according to the temperament and disposition, attack the victim.

The only permanent remedy is found in a reliable blood medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts upon the red corpuscles, enriching them and increasing their number. It thus restores the vital fluid to healthy condition, expels all impurity, cures Nervousness, That Tired Feeling, Scrofula and all other diseases arising from or promoted by low state of the blood.

These statements are true we prove not by our own statements, but by what thousands of perfectly reliable people say about Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read the testimonial in the next column from a beloved clergyman. Then take

TO PROTECT SPORTS

TURFMEEN MEET AT CLEVELAND AND
ORGANIZE A LEAGUE.Its Object Is to Fight Pernicious Legislation—Ducut Wins the Tennessee Club Stakes at Memphis.

CLEVELAND, O., April 9.—The convention of turfmeen called to organize a sporting league quickly concluded its business when it finally got to work this afternoon. The meeting was called to order by Col. William Edwards, of this city, who introduced Mr. P. P. Johnson, president of the National Trotting Association, as temporary chairman, with W. H. Goocher, of Cleveland, as secretary. Major Johnson called attention to the necessity of organizing a league. He said the enemies of legitimate sports were not really in the majority, but through the inactivity of the friends of American sports it had been possible to secure the passage of pernicious legislation, which had in many ways injured sports of all kinds. He said it was not proposed to make the league an aggressive organization. "The very fact," said he, "that we are prepared will make it unnecessary to fight." He said every effort would be made to keep the membership of the league on the very highest plane, and that nobody who was objectionable would be admitted.

A committee of seven was appointed to report a plan of organization and a constitution and by-laws. The following were named: C. E. Emery, Cleveland; W. B. Eddy, Saginaw; J. O. Gray, Boston; W. B. Pasig, New York; G. W. Archer, Rochester, and F. A. Tipton, Lexington. The committee reported a charter, which gives the name of the organization as the American League, and its object is to encourage and protect the many sports and the business interests connected with them. The constitution, which was adopted, provides for a president, secretary and treasurer, and also a board of control, consisting of the president, vice president, and a number of the league are to be managed by a general assembly, to consist of one delegate from each subordinate league. This assembly shall make all the by-laws, elect officers and receive reports from the subordinate leagues. The membership fee is fixed at one dollar, but the board of control can in emergencies assess each member a sum not to exceed one dollar in any one year.

The following officers were elected: President, Major P. P. Johnson, Lexington, Ky.; Vice President, W. B. Eddy, Saginaw, Mich.; Secretary, W. B. Pasig, New York; Treasurer, F. A. Tipton, Lexington, Ky.; Hon. C. L. Benjamin, Michigan; H. Allen, Ohio; Norman J. Coleman, Michigan; Colonel A. A. Pope, at Cincinnati; W. H. Goocher, of Cleveland, was made secretary. A fund was raised to pay all the immediate expenses of the league. All the delegates, about sixty in number, stayed to-night, much pleased with their work.

RUNNING RACES.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 9.—Four favorites and one second choice finished first to-day. The feature of the day's racing was the Tennessee Club handicap, which was won easily by Ducut, who led all the way. The track was good, the betting lively and the attendance 3,000. Results:

At Cumberland Park.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 9.—The track at Cumberland Park was still deep in mud to-day and the threatening weather caused a decrease in the attendance. The bettors were fairly successful, picking two winners, while the other races went to two well-played second choices and a 6 to 1 shot. The last race produced the closest finish of the meeting, text nipping Vida a nose at the wire. Results:

Second—Four furlongs. Merry Nell, 5 to 1; won; Gaiety Girl, 3 to 1; second; Rondo, 25 to 1; third; Time, 1:10.

"In view of the benefit I have had from Hood's Sarsaparilla I wish to give the following testimonial. I have several times been badly

Poisoned With Creeping Ivy.

As the old school of medicine simply tried to remove the symptoms instead of the sources of them, much of the poison was left in my system to appear in an itching humor on my body with every violent exertion in warm weather. At all times there were more or less indications of poison in my blood, up to a year ago last winter, when on my body. I then purchased a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after using that and a half of another bottle, the sores and humor disappeared. I attended the Christian Endeavor Convention in Montreal and also visited the World's Fair in the hottest weather of the summer. Was on the goal the time, but of the burning and itching sensation which had marred every previous summer's outing. I have reason, therefore, to be enthusiastic in my praises of Hood's Sarsaparilla." SAMUEL S. SCHWELL, pastor of Free Baptist Church, Apalachin, N. Y.

THE PRESS CLUB'S ARTISTS.

Something About Jessie Bartlett Davis and Mr. Eugene Cowles.

The announcement of the Press Club's professional matinee to be given at the Grand Opera House next Tuesday afternoon has attracted considerable interest as these annual affairs of the club have been popular events of the season. Those given each year since the organization of the club have been very successful, so much so, in fact, that "standing room only" remained on sale the day of the entertainment.

James Whitcomb Riley, a member of the club, has been most gracious in years past in consenting to take part in the club's annual entertainment, and the bare announcement that he would appear has been sufficient in itself to fill any hall that might be obtained. The club this year has felt a delicacy in turning to Mr. Riley, so much has he favored it. This year Messrs. Dickson & Talbot have very kindly tendered to the club for the professional matinee the Grand Opera House, evidencing their good will and liberality as they have done in the past.

The numbers to be taken by Jessie Bartlett Davis and Mr. Eugene Cowles, have not yet been selected by these artists, but will be announced in a few days. The hostesses open three nights' engagement at the Grand Opera House, and the first night will be taken by "Robbie Hood," De Koven's most tuneful opera, "Prince Ananias," new and great success, and "The Merry Widow," which has been some years since the hostesses have been here as their engagements have kept them largely in the big cities of the country, where there are sufficient people to make their names known. The company has been in existence many years and has always included the best artists to be found. A pure contralto voice is always a rarity, and the one of the rarest is that of Jessie Bartlett Davis. She is a woman whose charming qualities of manner, talent and voice have set an ideal for the American stage. Mr. Eugene Cowles, the second member of the hostesses, who has been in the country in the matinee, is in the front rank of great basses. His voice is remarkably deep and musical, with that much prized quality to thrill. He has been with the hostesses for several seasons, having secured a position in the first National Bank of Chicago. He is a Canadian by birth, having connected himself with the Chicago banking institution through the instrumentality of a prominent Canadian government official. In such roles as "Miles Standish" in "Maid of Plymouth" and "Will Scarlet" in "Robin Hood" he has made his greatest hit.

The Press Club has also secured another attraction which will be of peculiar interest to Indianapolis. Harry Porter, than whom there is more popular among the people of this city, will give two numbers. Mr. Porter has been with the "Railroad Ticket" for the last two years, having secured success in the East. Mr. Porter made his debut in this city a number of years ago with a juvenile opera company, which turned out many local entertainments until Frank Daniels, of "Little Puck" fame, came along and he saw the value of Mr. Porter's talent. Mr. Porter remained with Daniels two seasons and a more tempting offer led him away from that company. A week ago "Railroad Ticket" closed its season and he returned home. He is a most estimable in recitations and has offered to assist in the Press Club benefit.

The Press Club is making arrangements for the appearance of other prominent people in the full programme will be published in a few days.
